Graduate Admissions: Requirements by Country

As an international applicant, you must hold the equivalent of a U.S. Bachelor's degree with 3.0 GPA or "B" average in order to be considered for admission. Additionally, a passing TOEFL (80 or higher) or IELTS (6.5 or higher) score must be provided if your medium of instruction was not English.

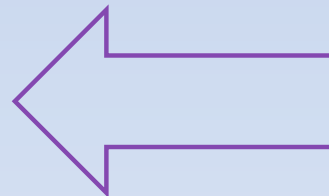

Listed below are required documents for your country. If official transcripts and diploma/degree certificates are not issued in English, applicants must submit a certified literal English translation of each document. The translated documents must be sent to SDSU from the university or certified translator in sealed envelopes. The translation must contain all information shown on the original language documents in the same format. SDSU recommends applicants request more than one official transcript if a certified English translation is needed. If your country is not listed below, please contact Graduate Admissions for instructions.

Don't forget to follow all steps to apply to ensure that you submit the required application materials and test scores to Graduate Admissions.

Portugal

Official academic records must arrive in a sealed envelope from the university of study in both the original language and the English translation.

- Submit transcripts/certificados de estudos for all studies (i.e., Licenciado, Bacharel, Mestre, Bachelor, Doutor, etc.), with years of study, course titles, credits and grades.

Indonesia

Sarjana or Sarjana Legkap, awarded after five years of university study.

Italy

Diploma di laurea, requiring four to six years of study or the three-year business degree.

Mexico

The survey focused on acceptance and treatment of three-year degrees by educational institutions

- Jointly developed and administered by AICE (Association of International Credential Evaluators) and AACRAO (American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers)
- 369 AACRAO member institutions participated in the survey
- Provided valuable data on their policies for considering three-year degrees for graduate admissions.

AICE-AACRAO SURVEY 2017: QUESTIONS ASKED ON THE SURVEY

FINDINGS: GENERAL US POSITION ON THREE-YEAR DEGREES IN THE CONTEXT OF GRADUATE ADMISSIONS

- There is no single US position on the equivalence of three-year degrees
- U.S. universities are autonomous, and each sets its own admission policies
- Survey data since 2005 shows 2/3 of respondents to consistently consider the three-year degree for graduate admissions
- Foreign education systems are not harmonizing, and case-by-case admission review remains a frequent practice in graduate admission

EVALUATION: STRATEGIES FOR DETERMINING SUITABILITY FOR ADMISSION

Institutional Requirements

Benchmarking versus Year-Counting

- Benchmark: credential which denotes completion of one level of education and grants access to the next level.
 - Ex. HS diploma – denotes what and grants access to what?
 - Most appropriate for tertiary
- Year-Counting
 - Most appropriate for secondary

EVALUATION: STRATEGIES FOR DETERMINING SUITABILITY FOR ADMISSION

Access in the home country

- Ex. Australia: Bachelor's vs. Honors Bachelor
- Ex. Mexico: título or no título?
- Ex. India: B.Tech vs. BA

EVALUATION: STRATEGIES FOR DETERMINING SUITABILITY FOR ADMISSION

Competencies required for success in the graduate program

- Ex. Majors in the STEM fields

EVALUATION: STRATEGIES FOR DETERMINING SUITABILITY FOR ADMISSION

Functional outcomes (Licensure or Professional Qualification)

- University versus credential evaluator perspective
- Ex. India: Bachelor of Education, Bachelor of Arts
- Ex. United States: Accounting and Engineering
